LEAPS FROM TRAIN.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Baltimore, Md., July 16.—Eluding a nurse and her brother-in-law, Nicholas Hill, of East Orange, N. J., who were taking her to a sanitarium in New York, Miss Elizabeth Berry plunged from a window of a speeding train near Orangeville, Md., this morning, fracturing her skull and sustaining internal injuries that will cause her death.

Miss Berry has been undergoing treatment at the Johns Hopkins Hospital for several months. Upon advice of the hospital doctors Mr. Hill decided to remove his sister-in-law to a sanitarium in New York. When the train bound for New York neared Orangeville Miss Berry arose from her seat and hastening to the rear of the car jumped through an open window before the nurse or Mr. Hill could stop her.

SOURCE FIGHT CENTERS HERE

Health Officers to Ask Congress Today for Special Appropriation.

Interest in the infantile paralysis epidemic will center on the Capitol today when officials of the Public Health Service will appear before the House Appropriations Committee and explain in detail why it is necessary to have a special appropriation of $185,000 to check the scourge.
No new cases were reported to the District health authorities yesterday. The three sufferers from the disease living in this city are said to be improving.
To avoid any further and possible interruptions of their journey, persons with children leaving Washington and passing through New York City on trains are advised to get permits or passports for their children at the local health department or from the officials of the Public Health Service.
Assistant Surgeon General Rucker, of the Public Health Service, said last night that reports from the different parts of the country which have been affected by the epidemic gave reason to believe that the progress of the scourge had been checked.

WASHINGTON WOMEN TO STUMP FOR SUFFRAGE

Mrs. Baker and Mrs. MacKaye to Be Campaign Managers in the Middle West.

Two Washington women, Mrs. Robert Baker and Mrs. Benton MacKaye, will be among the twenty-four campaign managers for the National Woman's Party in the twelve Western suffrage States during the coming Presidential election campaign period. This was announced by Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage, just before she left for New York, where she will complete plans for organization work in suffrage States and confer with Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont as to the $500,000 campaign fund now being raised.
Mrs. Robert Baker has been assigned to Montana, where her assistant in the State organization work will be Miss Clara Rowe, of New York. Mrs. MacKaye also is well known. She has been given Idaho. She will work there with Miss Francis P. Dickinson, of Chicago.
Both Mrs. Baker and Mrs. MacKaye expect to attend the conference of the Woman's Party to be held in Colorado Springs, August 10 to 12, when it will be decided what action the party will take in the Presidential campaign, whether it will support one of the existing parties or run an independent ticket.

BATTALION DRILLS IN MARCHING ORDER

District Troopers, Denied Trip to Biscay Today, Show Friends on Polo Field They Are Some Soldiers.

Although the First Battalion is not leaving for Biscay today, it went through a parade on the polo field at Fort Myer yesterday afternoon so that several thousand friends could see that they are ready for field service.
With heavy campaign packs on their backs, soldiers in Companies A, B, and D gave a battalion parade.
Automobiles were lined up about the polo field and on all sides spectators cheered the soldiers.

VISITORS SEEK SHARK AT ZOOLOGICAL PARK

Visualizing Violent Death of Bathers, Thrill-seekers Hunt Gardens for Man-eaters.

"Excuse me mister, but have you got a shark around here?"
If the keepers of the Zoological Gardens were asked this question once yesterday they were asked it a hundred times.
The monkeys, the snakes, the tigers, the bears, and the other hundred and varieties of animals and other things at the Zoo, of course, came in for a cursory glance from the usual Sunday crowd but in the minds of each visitor, the ugly picture of the water man-eater predominated and all wanted a glimpse of one.
Had there been even one shark at the park yesterday, the enclosure wherein it was interned would have been surrounded till night by a mob of wild-eyed thrill-seekers, each conjuring up the picture or thinking how it would feel to have some part of his or her anatomy snapped off by the teeth that lie in the half-hidden mouth of the "tiger."
The absence of a real shark drew an unusual amount of attention to its nearest relative, the alligator, and within the house where the reptiles are kept, the cage was banked by the curious.

WATCH YOUR CHILDREN'S TOILET HABITS

Irregularity Makes Cross, Weak, Sickly Children.

It is second nature to the child to neglect itself in the important matter—one of the worst possible things for its health. Colds, fever, sore throat, tonsillitis and indigestion all can usually be traced back to this neglect and to constipation.
Watch your children—see to it that they have a regular time for going every day, and if you find that they are neglecting it or if they keep insisting that they don't have to go, then it is your duty to help them.
Do this every night for a couple of weeks and the morning habit will be established.
This watch your children in good health and free from sickness and stomach and bowel troubles.

LECTURE BY COOPER.

Talks to Theosophists on Man's Destiny.
"Man creates his own destiny," declared Irving S. Cooper, national lecturer of the Theosophical Society, last evening, at 1215 H street. "This is because he has lived on earth before," he continued. "The conditions of this present life are the result of cause and effect which we ourselves have set in motion."
"In the words of St. Paul, 'Be not deceived, God is not mocked, whatever ye sow, that also shall ye reap.' Next Sunday evening Mr. Cooper's subject will be 'The Geography of the Unseen World.'"

MORE "SUB" MEN TO SEE CAPITAL

Capt. Koenig, of Deutschland, Also May Pay Visit to Washington Today.

Six more of the crew of the Deutschland, comprising the engineers that sent the big submarine on her trans-Atlantic trip, will see the sights of the Capital today.
Captain Paul Koenig may accompany the sightseeing party if his engagements permit, but the preparations for the return voyage keep the skipper well occupied and he may postpone his visit until "the next trip."
New York theatrical managers wanted the doughty captain as a vaudeville attraction and an offer of $200 for a three days' appearance was wired by Marcus Loew, but Koenig has no desire to be a Broadway star and turned the offer down.
Tonight the members of the crew will be the guests of the Washington Sanatorium, 14 C street northwest, and today they will tour government buildings as the guests of Gus Buchholz.
Buchholz and other Washingtonians who entertained the crew last week visited Baltimore yesterday and as a special mark of appreciation, were permitted to the Deutschland, being the first Americans outside of government officials who were permitted aboard.

FORGER TRAPPED BY EX-CONVICTS

Sing Sing Graduates Enraged When Flasher Uses Name of Warden Osborne.

Baltimore, July 16.—The man who obtained $2,000 from the National Bank of Baltimore upon a forged check was locked up in New York today as a result of the genius displayed by former convicts of Sing Sing when they learned that he had used the name of Thomas Mott Osborne, warden of Sing Sing Prison.

The former convicts have thus caught a man who showed so much cunning in his dealings that police and detectives were completely baffled by the finesy clues he left behind. But the two veterans in crime, who knew also the methods likely to be pursued in a getaway, were not to be deceived.
A man less liked by criminals probably would not have had the co-operation of former convicts who were so well qualified to unravel what seemed a hopeless mystery.

The following telegram was received this morning from Mr. Osborne:
Our man caught by two former convicts. Quick clever work. His money in him. Will send him on to Baltimore.

The man gave his name as F. L. Richards and claimed to be a secretary of Mr. Osborne. To forestall any suspicion he had sent a telegram bearing the name of Mr. Osborne, asking Leigh Bonal to introduce Richards at a bank. The telegram was received Thursday. Friday "Mr. Richards" appeared with the $2,000 check.

WICOMICO COUNTIANS PLAN FIGHT ON LAW

Special to The Washington Herald.
Annapolis, Md., July 16.—Ten thousand voters of Wicomico county have asked the first use of the powerful weapon placed in the hands of the people of this State as a check upon legislative action through the referendum amendment in the Constitution adopted last year, and plans are now being perfected in the office of the Secretary of State here for the submission of a local act of Assembly to them for approval or disapproval.
The law attacked by the Wicomico countians is one placing upon them a bonded indebtedness of $112,000 to be used for school additions, State-aided highways and three lift bridges over the Wicomico River in the town of Salisbury.
The petition of the voters has resulted in the preparation of a proclamation, which will be published in the papers of the county between now and the general election next fall, at which they will approve or reject the bond issue. The enabling act for the issue did not provide a specific referendum and therefore voters opposing the bonding plan resorted to the new Constitutional right.

"TOM" OSBORNE RULES AGAIN AT SING SING

(By the International News Service.)
Ossining, N. Y., July 16.—All Sing Sing was aglow with color and athrob with merriment today. Thomas Mott Osborne came back and was once again to rule the destinies of the men in prison. The "homecoming" was triumphant. Bands played, flags fluttered, banners waved. And through it all 1,600 convicts cheered lustily.
As soon as Osborne was seated the parade began. After reviewing it he rose to speak.
"Boys," said Osborne, "I want to recall the words I said in the mess hall last fall. I said that above the warden was the superintendent, above the superintendent was the governor, and above the governor, the people of the State of New York."
"If it hadn't been for the people of New York, I might have come back, but wearing different trousers."

THIEF CLIMBS TO ROB FLATS

Enters Two Apartments Via Fire Escape and Gets Jewels Worth $1,000.

In the absence of two tenants of the Cordova apartments, Twentieth street and Florida avenue northwest, yesterday afternoon, a sneak thief climbed a fire escape to the third floor, ransacked the two apartments and got away with jewelry and cash of an aggregate value of $1,000, leaving no trace of his identity.
Another similar robbery in a private residence netted a thief $50 worth of jewelry.
The largest of the three robberies was that of the apartment of Mrs. Langdon Moore in the Cordova, where the thief got a ring set with a 1 1/2-karat sapphire, slightly oval, surrounded by 7 3/4-karat diamonds in platinum, the setting being round and the size of a 5-cent piece and valued at $200, a gold breast pin in the shape of a bunch of grapes in pearls and leaves, with small diamonds in leaves, valued at $50.
An assortment of family jewelry and in cash was stolen from the home of Mrs. James Hudson, 42 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, of a total value of $50. This was made some time Saturday night or during the early hours of yesterday morning.

VACANT RANKS OF 3D BEING CLOSED RAPIDLY

Seventeen Enlistments Yesterday Brings District Militia Regiment Near Minimum War Strength.

Thirteen men were enlisted in the District militia at Camp Ordway yesterday. Four men were enlisted during the half day of work at the city recruiting depot. Just 30 men are necessary for the Third Infantry now. Col. Glendie B. Young hopes that these men will enlist this week and allow the regiment to be in a position to leave soon.
The men who enlisted at Camp Ordway were: John C. Bishop, William J. Epps, Brady H. Kane, Garrison R. Long, Carlton Baker, George Bell, Louis E. Bradley, Henry Hunter, Frank Smith, Washington Smith, Samuel Stevenson, Thomas White, William A. Hibbert.

TREASURE TROVE FLEET PASSES VIRGINIA CAPES

Seek to Recover Cargo of Silver Which Went Down on Ward Liner Merida Four Years Ago.

A fleet of treasure-hunting voyagers passed the Virginia Capes last night and will reach their opied base, fifty miles off Cape Charles Light, early this morning. The expedition is backed by Wall Street capital and seeks to recover a cargo of silver treasure which went down on the Ward liner Merida, which was sunk in that location four years ago.
The expedition includes the steam vessels Titania, Fearless and F. H. Beck, with a wrecking vessel, a yacht and a tug, and is under the command of George D. Stillson, for many years in charge of government diving work. It has been sent out from New York, financed by Percy Rockefeller, of Standard Oil interests; Charles H. Sabin, president of the Guaranty Trust Company, of New York, and other internationally famous New York millionaires. The fleet sailed from New York on Friday afternoon and will touch at Norfolk today.
Mr. Stillson, the commander of the expedition, is regarded by Navy Department experts here as the greatest authority on deep sea diving apparatus in the United States. He left the government service last winter to superintend submarine operations of a private firm project to photograph under the sea a reproduction of Jules Verne's story, "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea." He has with him on the treasure hunt the government divers and submarine experts who aided him in the Jules Verne film project and in the raising of the F-4 at Honolulu.

CRIME SERIES SHOCKS STATE

Alabama Unearths Political Sensations Growing Out of Recent Elections.

Huntsville, Ala., July 16.—The most remarkable series of sensations ever experienced in Alabama politics has developed in Madison County since the Democratic primary election of May 9, in which W. T. Lawler, probate judge, was unanimously opposed for re-election by David D. Overton, aside from Lawler, was the most powerful politician in the county.

The first sensation came with the impounding of a grand jury to investigate the election, which was said to have reeked with fraud, and the reported action of the grand jury in finding more than a score of true bills against Judge Lawler and recommending his impeachment.
Judge Lawler was murdered on the night of June 14, and his body, weighted down with railroad iron, was thrown into the mouth of a deep creek that flows into the Tennessee River at Whitesburg. An anonymous note to Sheriff Phillips said that if the creek were dragged something of interest would be found, and this led to the discovery of the body three days later.

Two Kill Selves.
The discovery of the murder and its subsequent developments startled Alabama from end to end. David D. Overton, Lawler's political opponent, disappeared and he since been indicted by the special grand jury as the principal in a murder plot to do away with Judge Lawler. A reward of $1,500 has been offered for his arrest and conviction. He is supposed to be a fugitive in Canada. Circuit Clerk Charles M. Nails, of Madison County, and Percy Brooke, ferryman and prominent farmer of Whitesburg, were also indicted as accessories and are in jail in Birmingham for safe-keeping.
On June 21, Shelby S. Pleasant, prominent member of the Huntsville bar and ex-assistant district attorney, whose name is said to have been brought into the case, committed suicide in his office. Two days later Sheriff Robert Phillips committed suicide by shooting himself.

self in the head at the jail and left a note saying he could not stand the shame of being accused of connection with the case. He also said that the man whom he trusted and thought to be a gentleman had "fooled him." He is believed to have referred to Overton.

NO PTOMAIN AT CAMP.

Although there have been rumors of ptomaine poisoning at Camp Ordway, there have been no cases reported, according to Maj. Charles R. Luce, of the sanitary troops.
Several severe stomachaches, due in part to the second dose of typhoid prophylactic, caused the rumors. It is believed. Tinned salmon—"goldfish," as the men call them—has been served to the men, but there have been no casualties.
